Invitation to Join Mapping Initiative

European and/or International Standards (EN/ISO) can be used as guidance material for reporting the European Sustainability Reporting Standards (ESRS) and the Voluntary SME Standards (VSME) under the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD).

EFRAG and DIN, the German Institute for Standardization, invite you to contribute to the mapping of relevant EN/ISO standards with the EFRAG VSME standard within joint task groups.

The aim is to create a comprehensive mapping of VSME data points to corresponding EN/ISO standard clauses. This initiative builds on the first high-level mapping of EN/ISO standards to ESRS by DIN from September 2023, available here.

EFRAG and DIN seek experts with experience in ISO standards and corporate sustainability reporting to provide input and verify existing correspondences, ensuring the mapping's applicability. The mapping will be published by EFRAG as guidance material for reporting.

Benefits of Participating:
- Support the simplification of reporting in line with the CSRD;
- Build your professional network;
- Deepen your understanding regarding the interaction of EN/ISO standards with CSRD.

Who Should Apply:
- Professionals with relevant experience in corporate sustainability reporting and EN/ISO standards → such as report preparers, auditors, SME representatives, technical committee experts, and sustainability managers.

Registration Process:
- Complete this survey to express interest and detail your expertise.
- Survey responses will determine selection for task groups.

This call for experts closes on the 6th of June 2025. We will get back to you about the way forwards and the link to access the collaboration platform by the 13th of June 2025.
